ARCHITECTS: LYLES, BISSETT, CARLISLE & WOLFF

A 520,000 square foot Student Dormitory built in record time at Clemson College, in South Carolina, is another part of the South's continuing program of building education and research facilities.

This revolution in building utilized the slabs for floors of the dormitory after lifting them to their appointed height. No framework of steel was needed — time and money were saved from the start. But more than a revolutionary building was constructed at Clemson—a growing center of textile education is making it more attractive than ever for firms in any branch of the textile industry to select the South for their home for profits both today and tomorrow.

CONCESSION STANDS

Concession stands are located immediately behind the top row of seats on either side of the playing field. The stands handle soft drinks, sandwiches, popcorn, peanuts, candy, etc. Vendors will sell these items from the aisles, also.

EMERGENCIES

In an emergency of any nature, come to the back of the pressbox. Please remember however, that since important business is being conducted within the pressbox, only cases of strict emergency can be given consideration. Telephone is located in information booth.

RESTROOMS

Ladies' restrooms are located on both sides of the stadium on the east end. Mens' restrooms are located on both sides of the stadium on the West end.

IN LEAVING

In leaving the stadium, please give utmost heed to the directions from the officers controlling traffic. Every care has been taken to move cars from the college campus in the most efficient manner and cooperation from drivers will speed up the process considerably. See map on page 42.

Frank Howard's Silver Anniversary . . .

For obvious reasons, Frank Howard's hair hasn't turned to silver, but in 25 years time the Clemson football coach and athletic director has made a lasting impression in the realm of college football and relating athletics. His reputation as a Southern humorist is without equal, while his renown as a football tactician reached national scope in 1948 and 1950 when his teams went unbeaten and won bowl championships.

It was 25 years ago this fall that the young Howard, fresh from commencement at the University of Alabama, where he had played on an unbeaten Rose Bowl football team, first came to Clemson—line coach under Jess Neely. Nine years later, in 1940, after helping Coach Neely put the Tigers into the national limelight with a Cotton Bowl victory over Frank Leahy's undefeated Boston College team, an exuberant 30-year-old Howard took over the head athletic reins at Clemson when Neely headed to greener pastures at Rice.

His first team won the Southern Conference championship, his second was ranked among the nation's "top twenty" teams, and following only mediocre success during the war years and immediately afterwards, his 1948 and 1950 teams went undefeated to rank among the nation's "top ten" while his 1951 squad finished up in the "top twenty" though losing a Gator Bowl battle to Miami.

In addition to heading up the Clemson football program during a period which has seen the Tigers take a back seat to no one in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference, Howard has also had the job of directing Clemson's entire athletic program and at the same time raising all the required funds. Going into his 25th season at Clemson, he has never known the athletic department to wind up a sports year in the red.

A native Alabaman, with a thick drawl which helps his reputation as a "professional hill-billy," the Clemson coach was graduated from high school in Mobile before attending the University of Alabama.

A Clemson Monologue . . .

"So this is Clemson College, one-time plantation of John C. Calhoun! It's a beautiful school! The Blue Ridge mountains only a few miles in the distance add to the scenery as you said. Guess the nights are always cool, too, being in the foothills as you are.

"Everyone sure is friendly around here. They make a stranger feel right at home. Yes, I've decided to attend Clemson. It's always been one of my favorites, and now that I'm here I know I've made the right choice.

"No, I haven't made up my mind what to study, but then freshmen usually follow about the same general course. With 29 fields to choose from in the Schools of Arts and Sciences, Agriculture, Education, Engineering and Textiles, I don't see how I can go wrong in eventually finding the right one.

"Have I memorized the different courses? Why sure — agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, agronomy, animal husbandry, botany, dairying, entomology, horticulture, poultry, pre-forestry and pre-veterinary in the School of Agriculture; arts and sciences, education, industrial education and vocational agricultural education in the School of Education; architecture, ceramic engineering, chemical engineering, civil engineering, electrical engineering and mechanical engineering in the School of Engineering; and textile chemistry, textile engineering and textile manufacturing in the School of Textiles. Whew!

"There's always the possibility that I might stay in the Armed Forces upon graduation. They tell me that Clemson contributed more Army officers than West Point during World War II, and a lot of them stayed in and have high ranks today. Just because Clemson is no longer a strict military school is no reason to assume that Clemson won't still be turning out qualified leaders.

"You say the enrollment will be about 3,000 students this fall, and included in this number will be about 30 coeds? Guess it won't be long before the dormitories will be overflowing. I understand you can accommodate 1930 students in the new multi-million dollar dormitory completed last summer and 700 more in the older buildings.

"The buildings around here are beautiful. I really like that new Olin Hall where they teach ceramics and the new multi-million dollar Ag Center. They're both air-conditioned throughout. And the Clemson House! I've never seen a finer hotel.

"You're right about Clemson's being in a small college town, but I guess that's ideal. There's the academic atmosphere here. You certainly can't say you're in the 'sticks', because the Southern Railway stops here, U. S. Highways 123 and 76 pass through town and Eastern and Delta Airlines serve Clemson at Anderson—only 18 miles away—and Greenville—only 32 miles. Atlanta, Ga., and Charlotte, N. C., are less than three-hour drives.

"One thing I'm looking forward to at Clemson is the Concert Series which brings the world's finest entertainment here. This year I'll see the Marine Band, the Ballets Espagnols, Marie Powers in Gian-Carlo Menotti's 'The Medium', pianist Walter Geiseking, the Minneapolis Symphony and bass-baritone George London.

"The dances are fabulous here, too. All the big name bands get here sooner or later. There are plenty of activities I'm planning to participate in.

"Clemson is the South Carolina agricultural and engineering college and therefore not affiliated with any one religious denomination, you say? Churches on the campus are Baptist, Catholic, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist and Presbyterian, and there's plenty of attention given to students? Religious Emphasis Week is a high point of the year I understand.

"Clemson alumni are everywhere, and holding good jobs. Why, they tell me that Clemson men are right at the top or near it in practically every field of endeavor.

"Guess that's the big reason I'm coming to school here."

CLEMSON COLLEGE ADMINISTRATORS . . .

DEAN WALTER COX, Clemson '39, is in charge of all student activities on the campus . . . A regular guard on the 1939 Clemson Cotton Bowl Championship team, Dean Cox began his post graduate career as Clemson line coach and head baseball coach . . . He became Assistant to the President and Director of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs in 1951 and served in this capacity until recently.

DR. F. M. KINARD, Dean of the College, is in charge of all academic affairs on the campus . . . A graduate of Wofford, he came to Clemson as an instructor in English in 1924 . . . He was named Dean of Arts and Sciences School in 1943, a position he filled until his recent promotion . . . He received his Master's Degree at North Carolina in 1929 and was awarded a Litt.D. in 1944 by Wofford.

MR. G. E. METZ, administrative assistant to President Poole and secretary of the Trustees, was graduated from Clemson in 1927 . . . He received his M.A. degree from the University of North Carolina . . . He was appointed college registrar in 1935, a position he held until this past summer . . . At the outset of his Clemson career, he served as assistant registrar and mathematics instructor.

MR. MELFORD A. WILSON, Clemson's comptroller, coordinates the activities of the offices of the treasurer and business manager . . . Appointed to this new position in the summer, Mr. Wilson was formerly executive director of the S. C. Employment Security Commission . . . He's a graduate of U. S. C., having also done graduate work there in political science and public administration.

BOB JONES, Clemson '30, hasn't left the local college scene since graduation except to serve in the Army . . . His efforts as end coach have resulted in the Tigers having All-Conference ends four of the past five years — Glenn Smith, Dreher Gaskin and Scott Jackson . . . In the Army Reserve, he's a Brigadier General . . . His boxing teams of the late thirties won several Conference titles.

BOB SMITH, Furman '34, is the first man to take over full line responsibilities at Clemson since Frank Howard arrived on the campus 25 years ago . . . A versatile coach, he has directed four Tiger baseball teams, one to the Atlantic Coast Conference championship . . . He came to Clemson in 1950 as "T" coach for the scrubs . . . He was formerly head coach at Furman University.

-:- CLEMSON COLLEGE ★

BANKS McFADDEN, Clemson '40, is on the varsity staff after several seasons as head freshman coach . . . Also head basketball coach, he works doubly hard in the fall in readying for basketball while worrying about football . . . The greatest college athlete in Clemson history, he was first team All-American in both football and basketball and still holds three state records in track.

CARL WISE, King's College '37 . . . Former head coach at Washington and Lee, he specializes as backfield coach, a job he held at W&L, Pennsylvania, Bainbridge Navy and Hamilton (Canadian Professional League) before coming to Clemson . . . A fine student of the game with ability to express himself, he's charged with giving the Tiger offense more scoring punch.

"It Is A Pleasure To Do Business With You . . . "

The above is quoted from a letter we recently received from a Clemson grad now in the Service of his Country. It was our privilege to supply him with his uniform outfit. His complimentary statement is typical of the expressions of good will we have received in letters from scores of Clemson grads—and, of course, nothing gives us more downright satisfaction than being able to truly please our customers. We value good will more than profit—important as the latter is.

When the members of this year's graduating class were Freshmen, they wore cadet uniforms made by our company. It has been our great privilege to be the Official Uniform Supplier of Clemson College for six consecutive years. It is natural, therefore, that so many of those graduating and receiving Commissions should come to us for their uniform needs as soon-to-be Commissioned Officers. These Clemson grads like us for the fine fit and workmanship of our uniforms, our prompt service, and our down-to-earth, low prices which make it possible for them to buy all that they need, well within the uniform allowance they will receive. And they also like the fact that they do not have to pay us for their uniforms until they receive their allowance, whatever date that might be.

We sincerely hope it will continue to be our privilege to fill the uniform needs of this and future graduating classes.

ORANGE BOWL DATE DUE WINNER OF TODAY'S GAME

A January 1st trip to Miami hangs in the balance of today's game between the Clemson Tigers and the Maryland Terrapins. Both teams have won three Atlantic Coast Conference games, and the winner of this encounter will, in most probability, meet the Big Seven representative in the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day.

In renewing its youngest rivalry today, the Tigers will be trying to break into the scoring column for the first time since the series began in 1952. Maryland enters the game with a 3 to 0 margin in the games played thus far, and a 64 to 0 margin in points scored.

Despite Maryland's lead in both victories and points scored, Clemson has been outclassed only once—in the series opener in 1952. The Terps won that one 28 to 0, with Jack Scarbath leading the way. The brilliant quarterback, playing perhaps the best game of his college career, completed seven of nine passes for 128 yards and one touchdown, and carried the ball himself 13 times for 77 yards and another score.

In 1953, Clemson played host to Maryland for the first time. This was also the first big test of Clemson's split-T attack, the offense with which Terrapin Coach Jim Tatum has been so successful. But the scoring punch was still lacking, and the Tigers tasted defeat again, this time 20 to 0. Had it not been for three long Maryland plays and the second quarter injury to Clemson quarterback Don King, the outcome may very well have been different. Terp quarterback Bernie Faloney returned the opening kickoff 88 yards for a touchdown. In the final 58 seconds of the game, halfback Dick Nolan returned a punt 90 yards for a touchdown. And in the third quarter, in between these two runs, a perfect pass play—Faloney to Nolan, on the dead run behind the Clemson secondary — netted 65 yards and another Maryland touchdown. King played an outstanding game up until the time of his injury and received high praise from the Terrapin coaches.

The Tigers were able to do everything but score in their game with Maryland last year. With a backfield of King at quarterback, Joel Wells and the now departed Buck George at halfbacks, and Billy O'Dell at fullback, Clemson rolled at will — until they crossed the Terrapin 20-yard line. In the second half, the Tigers' defense held the Old Liners to no first downs and to minus one yard in total offense. Overall Clemson made 18 first downs to the Terps' 8, and gained 325 net yards to the Terps' 202. But once again three long plays spelled the difference. Halfback Ronnie Waller scored on a 60-yard run with 30 seconds remaining in the first quarter, and again on a 57-yard screen pass play which ended after the first half was over. Finally, a third quarter field goal attempt by Dick Bielski from the 37-yard line was good.

Today's game will see the ACC's three leading ground gainers in action. Maryland halfback Ed Vereb leads the conference in rushing with 506 yards gained in eight games. However, Clemson will counter with halfback Joel Wells and fullback Billy O'Dell who have gained 463 and 462 yards, respectively, in seven games.

The Tigers will be ready for the Terrapins with their fine pair of quarterbacks — Don King and Charlie Bussey. But Maryland will also be prepared with a more than capable pair of their own — Frank Tamburello and Lynn Beightol.

Facing each other across the two powerful lines will be end Willie Smith, tackles Dick Marazza and B. C. Inabinet, guards Earl Greene, Leon Kaltenbach, and John Grdijan, and centers Wingo Avery and Hampton Hunter for Clemson; and end Bill Walker, tackles Mike Sandusky and Ed Heuring, guards Gene Dyson and George Kolarac, and center Bob Pellegrini for Maryland.

John Grdijan is the only sophomore slated to play on the first eleven. He stood out as a 24-year-old ex-G.I. freshman guard last fall. He played ball in Germany.

Don King has been Clemson's leading ground-gainer for three straight years. Highest honor to come to the Tiger quarterback was the 1954 "Swede" Nelson Award for Sportsmanship.

Wingo Avery is in his 5th year at Clemson. He'll be graduated with education major in February. Team alternate captain, he's rated the equal of any center in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Joel Wells is Clemson's regular left halfback and today is rated as "best back in the Conference" by his coaches. He's a tremendous defensive player and a hard runner.

CLEMSON PLAYERS

Dick DeSimone was the only 1954 sophomore to start every game. He's a tremendous linebacker from his right guard position. Had his knee operated on in mid-July. Hopes to be ready for most of season.

Walt Laraway will probably be Clemson's leading pass receiver this fall. Must fill gap left by All-Conference graduates of 1953 and 1954 seasons, Dreher Gaskin and Scott Jackson. Will graduate in February.

Willie Smith is the strong silent type at right end. He played second string ball as a consistent sophomore last fall. Is looking for more improved season this time. Runs dashes on track team.

Dick Marazza was the sensation of spring drills with his downfield blocking from tackle. Always strong defensively, he's the blocking leader on offense now. Candidate for Jacobs Blocking trophy.

B. C. Inabinet is the giant of the squad. He's an excellent blocker in the line from his right tackle position. Outplayed Wake Forest's Bob Bartholomew last fall in his big game of year.

Earl Greene is one of the hardest tackling performers on the squad. Poor eyesight has handicapped him, but he now uses contact lenses. Better blocking and he'd be great.

Bill O'Dell has been on the varsity for four years straight. He averaged 5.5 yards per carry as a halfback in 1953. Last year he was leading ground-gainer in the Maryland and Auburn games at fullback.

Jim Coleman led the Tigers in scoring last fall with five TDs and an extra point. He was one of the state's finest prep quarterbacks before coming to Clemson. Today he's a great pass-receiving halfback.

Donnie Bunton was a "bohunk" guard last fall but played first string center all spring with regular Avery on the sidelines. He's married and the father of a boy and a girl.

Lem McLendon played freshman ball at Clemson in 1950 but took three years off to serve in the army — two as a second lieutenant in Germany. Smallest halfback on the squad, he's one of the toughest.

Bill Thomas was a third string freshman fullback last fall, a second string center in the spring and could conceivably be a first string guard before long. He's a tremendous competitor.

Charlie Bussey was runnerup as Clemson's "most valuable" as picked by the players last fall. A "B" student in the classroom, he's a fine leader on and off the field. An excellent quarterback.

Joe Pagliei was Clemson's regular right halfback most of last fall and half of 1953. Biggest back on the team, he led the A.C.C. in punting in 1954. Is a flashy performer.

Neuf Ankuta is one of the most underrated players on the squad. Had 5.5-yard rushing average last fall. He's Brooklyn's contribution to the Tigers. Excellent blocker and defensive fullback.

Pete Wall lettered as a second string performer at end in 1953. He could have been graduated in August but came back to play a final season. Football has been a big part of his life.

Billy Hudson is the third Hudson brother to earn a Block C letter at Clemson. Brother Bob is currently playing with the Philadelphia Eagles. Brother J. C. was graduated last year.

Leon Kaltenbach has been improving rapidly at the guard position after "bohunking" as a sophomore last fall. He played ball with Joe Pagliei at Clairton, Pa., High.

Joe Bowen came to Clemson minus an athletic scholarship but proved to be the best freshman end of 1952. He was the state hurdles champion last spring. He plans to be a Methodist minister.

Tommy Sease, the smallest, but possibly most aggressive, tackle on the team. His defensive play has been exceptional this fall in practice. He saw limited action last year.

Jack Steinbrecher was one of the South's most highly sought after preppers last year. An All-American center at Barboursville, W. Va., High, he liked the military phase of Clemson.

Bill Few came to Clemson as a halfback last fall but took over as a regular end when it became apparent that spot needed strengthening. He's perhaps best punter on the squad.

Bob Spooner was a sensation in spring practice after "bohunking" as full-back last fall. Had to work hard to pass analytical geometry exam in September to get eligible.

Bill Barbary is solid quarterback insurance behind the experienced King and Bussey. He's also fine basketball prospect, standing out on the strong Cub team last winter.

Ronald (Whitey) Jordan was noted for his offensive end play at Florence High but stood out on defense as a Cub last fall. Blocked punts against both Duke and Wake Forest Frosh.

CLEMSON PLAYERS

Jim McCanless is one of the biggest guards on the squad at 220 pounds. A native Tar Heel, he is quite promising. His kid brother is at South Carolina on an athletic scholarship.

Jack Bush was a regular Cub tackle last fall and showed up well in spring drills. He also played freshman basketball. He is one reason Tigers' tackles are the toughest.

Doug Thompson of London, Ontario, Canada, has been the most fragile player on the Tiger squad through the years. He's had both ankles sprained, but when able, he shows up well.

Hampton Hunter, a two-letterman, should be solid insurance behind Wingo Avery at center. The 220-pound Central native gives it all he's got. He was married last spring.

Johnny Thomason was regular Cub tackle last fall. Missed all of spring practice with an injured knee. Considered best young tackle prospect on team today. Attended Darlington School one year.

Buck Priester has played first and second string guard for two seasons. He'll be graduated in February with a major in education. Frank Howard coached his father during his first year at Clemson in 1931.

Shot Rogers is one of the best broken field runners on the Clemson team. This is his fourth year at Clemson. He had a fabulous record at Mullins High. Is one of the big chiefs at the dining hall.

Frank Griffith was one of the finest Cub backs Clemson ever had. He scored three touchdowns in the South Carolina freshman game of 1953. His wife is Frank Howard's secretary. He's a pre-dental student.

One of the best in the South . . . ultra-modern . . . says

Clemson
House

In the foothills of the beautiful Blue Ridge Mountains, you'll find the Clemson House located in a unique setting — right on the campus of Clemson College. Here you will find all of the services of a great metropolitan hotel yet you will be far away from the noise of a large city. And you'll enjoy the beautifully landscaped grounds and the flower beds. The splendid accommodations and the excellent cuisine offered at the Clemson House are combined with warm friendly hospitality and fine service. The Clemson House is a gem among fine hotels, and the rates are almost unbelievably low. All rooms are air conditioned. Four dining rooms and the Tiger Lounge and Coffee Shop. There is swimming, fishing and golf nearby

Charlie Timmons, industrial engineer, Gulf Oil Co., Greenville, S. C. Graduate Clemson College. Former pro player Brooklyn Dodgers of All-American Conference. Member Greenville Touchdown Club. Sunday school teacher at St. Paul Methodist Church.

W. M. Wilbanks, recreation director, Ware Shoals Community Foundation of Riegel Textile Corp., Ware Shoals, S. C. Attended Washington College. President Southern Textile Athletic Assn. Instructor in first aid American Red Cross. Member Lions Club, American Legion, Masonic Lodge.

Paul K. Wood, municipal engineer, City of Lexington, Lexington, N. C. Attended Georgia Tech, graduated North Carolina State College, bachelor of civil engineering degree in 1949.

Donald Rhinehart came to Clemson as a fullback, he played second string guard at the start of the '54 season and is now back at fullback. He's an honor student in the classroom.

Johnny Greene is one of the roughest players on the squad. Was nicknamed "captain of the bohunks" last fall. Has seen limited action only to date. Is good linebacker from guard position.

Vernon Carlton, alias "The Rooster", has been a hot and cold performer. He's a good blocker and defensive player but only average at receiving passes from his end position.

Charlie Lucas was one of the biggest men on the 1954 freshman team. A 225-pound tackle today, he's a fine prospect. Only thing he lacks is additional aggressiveness.

Joe Hipp returned to the Tigers out of the service in February. He's one of the lighter tackles, tipping the scales at slightly under 200 pounds. Will likely see limited duty.

Joe Pilot is one of a handful of Pennsylvanians who made good scholastically as freshmen at Clemson last year. Has a good attitude and will likely play a lot of center eventually.

Harold Strange led the state's high school backs in scoring two years ago with 31 touchdowns at Camden Academy. Injured his knee as a freshman and was operated on in July.

Bobby Fisher was the Cubs' second string quarterback last fall. He sparked the Cubs to one touchdown in the Carolina game but later broke his leg. Passing is his strong suit.

Bob Giles played first and second string guard with the Cubs last fall. Was one of Cub catchers in baseball, too. Needs experience before he'll help varsity much. Good student.

Ray Bowick is in his 4th season at Clemson as an end. Tremendous blocker but poor pass-receiver. He was a dashman on the varsity track team. Works at Greenwood YMCA in summer.

Jerry Ard was "bohunk" quarterback in '52, Clemson's final year with the single wing. Recently discharged by the Army after two years of service. Played some ball while in the Army.

Benny Kissam was a freshman end in 1953 but has been operating from a halfback position since that time. Don Wade coached him during his senior year at Waynesboro (Ga.) High.

Terry Culpepper saw limited action only as a Cub tackle last fall. He came to Clemson in February of 1954 after prepping a year at Camden Academy. He calls Augusta, Ga., home.

Dalton Rivers is in his fourth season at Clemson. He was used sparingly as a football sophomore last fall. Would probably be a regular defensive end if two-platoon football was allowed.

Buddy Rivers is another victim of the limited substitution rules. Very strong defensively, he's only average as offensive halfback. Was just discharged from the Armed Forces prior to school.

Kent Monroe is the "brains" of the Clemson football team. A guard, he's made almost nothing but A's in tough electrical engineering. His father's a doctor. He's the team's only Tennessean.

Bill Neely was a standout on Rock Hill's state championship team of 1953. He started several games as center for the Cubs last fall. His biggest handicap is lack of weight.

Jimmy Padgett is one of the best prospects on the squad. He's extremely green, having played only one year of ball before coming to Clemson as fullback last fall. Is tackle and kickoff man today.

Earl Deas was a member of Rock Hill's strong team of 1953. He's a non-scholarship boy who likes the game. Lack of size hurts his chances of playing much this year.

Wyatt Cox scored on a touchdown pass against North Carolina State's Frosh last fall. He underwent a knee operation last winter. Is fine offensive end.

Fred Wimberly is a non-scholarship football player from Camden. A sophomore end, he plays the game because he loves it. Was a teammate of freshman flash Horace Turbeville.

Earl Herndon is in his second year as co-senior manager. He was initiated into the Block C Club last year. A native of Fountain Inn, he's been a hard worker from the beginning.

Joe Bolt was a junior manager last fall. Because of his hard work, senior bosses Herndon and Fleming have put him on an equal par with them. He's a native of Anderson.

Gerald Fleming worked as a newspaper printer two and one-half years before attending Clemson. He's an honor student in his Textiles major today and was an honor military student at Ft. Knox last summer.

On the field or in the plant GOOD TEAMWORK SCORES HIGH!

Your football squad knows how important good teamwork is in rolling up scores against rugged competition. Training, condition, strategy are vital . . . but precision teamwork is the key to victory. It's the same way in our plant at Clemson. Every single job must contribute its own important part in the process of converting raw cotton into packaged sheets and pillow cases. Whether it's eleven skilled men on the gridiron—or eighteen hundred skilled people in our plant—good teamwork scores high!

CUBS' RECORD: 2-1-1; PROSPECTS GOOD FOR '56 VARSITY

Clemson's Freshmen, with two wins, a loss, and a tie, are still considered the finest group to matriculate at the College in many years.

The wins came against North Carolina State, 14-0, a team considered by "Big Four" experts to be the strongest freshman club in the Tar Heel State, and against highly-regarded Wake Forest, 41-19; the loss was a 25-14 affair against Georgia Tech's perennially unbeaten Frosh, with the Baby Yellow Jackets making all four touchdowns via the sensational — long pass, punt return, blocked punt, and runback of pass interception; and the tie was with South Carolina's highly rated Bulldogs, 14-14.

Who in this group is most apt to help the Clemson varsity next fall and in years to come? They are many, beginning with 215-pound left halfback Rudy Hayes of Pickens and 215-pound end Buck Grover of Brownsville, Pa. This pair could conceivably break into the Tiger starting lineup as sophomores. Both have stood out in each game with their rugged brand of play. Hayes netted 134 yards through the South Carolina line, while Grover was the big man in stopping the Biddies' wide running game. Grover caught two touchdown passes in the Georgia Tech game for both Cub scores.

Expected to replenish the depleted group of varsity backs along with Hayes are halfbacks Floyd Lawrence of Saltville, Va., Don Gilpin of Connellsville, Pa., Larry Rudin of Atlanta, Ga., and Tommy McTeer of Hampton; fullbacks Jim Stevens of Greenwood and Hal Knott of Henderson, N. C.; and quarterbacks Mike Duke and Ted Moseley, both of Atlanta.

At end, the shallowest spot on the varsity today and the one to be hit hardest by graduation, Grover will be of tremendous help along with Ray Masneri of California, Pa., Kenneth Lee of Heflin, Ala., Doug Daigneault of Malone, N. Y., Ken Rogers of Mullins and Tommy Gressette of St. Matthews.

Linemen most likely to see much action with the Tiger varsity next fall are guards Earl Catoe of Ker-

and Jaudon Bragg of Savannah, and center Paul Snyder of New Castle, Delaware.

"You're right, Coach! Your grandmother can move down the field faster!"

How IPTAY Came Into Being

No one thing has meant more to Clemson athletics in late years than the organization known as IPTAY. The club's name, IPTAY, is derived from the initial letters of the pledge, "I Pay Ten A Year."

IPTAY came into being in 1934, a period in Clemson history when the college's athletic teams had sunk to a low ebb. It was at this time that a group of Tiger supporters decided that the coaches needed more backing generally and more money for athletic scholarships specifically. So these men circulated among the faithful asking for ten dollars to be used for financing the education of worthy athletes at Clemson.

ANYONE CAN JOIN

The idea is that anyone — graduate of Clemson or not — who wants to see the Tigers retain a high ranking in the athletic world — may contribute $10 or more per year. The money thus collected by IPTAY is used solely for athletic scholarships.

Since 1934, IPTAY has become almost a religion among Clemson supporters. Today, it is the life-blood of Clemson athletics. It has seen football at the college change from a sport with second-rate success to an activity that has made the school a national football power with consistently high ranking teams.

Primarily, IPTAY has educated more than 800 students in its two decades of activity. It has also been a strong morale factor in Clemson's rising reputation in the sports world.

ALMOST 20% IMPROVEMENT

For 15 years prior to IPTAY, Clemson won less than half of its football games — 47 per cent to be exact. Since IPTAY was formed, Clemson football teams have won 65 per cent of their games, finished atop the Southern Conference in 1939, 1940 and 1948 and played in four bowl games — 1940 Cotton, 1949 Gator, 1951 Orange and 1952 Gator — winning all but the second Gator Bowl contest. In three of the four bowl years, Clemson was ranked among the nation's top dozen teams.

Also prior to IPTAY, few Clemson players were given wide recognition for their athletic accomplishments. Since 1934, Tiger athletes have consistently been placed on All-State, All-Conference and All-South teams. In five instances, Clemson football players have been All-Americans, first team — an honor no other South Carolina college has received.

MANY BENEFITS FOR MEMBERS

The $10 or more per year paid into IPTAY entitles a member to all club benefits, which include a subscription to the IPTAY Report, a windshield IPTAY sticker, membership card and the all-important first choice of football tickets. For the interested Clemson sports follower, the IPTAY Report is invaluable. It presents weekly during football season a newsletter from Coach Howard, the complete story of every game, official statistics and a "scout report" of the game to come. The IPTAY Report is printed monthly during the remainder of the school year, giving a complete picture of all other Clemson athletic teams.

IPTAY is here to stay for those persons who want to be a part of the organization working to keep Clemson high in the national sports picture. It is the one and only way that Clemson can hope to keep its head in the right direction — forward. So it's up to all friends of Clemson to "SUPPORT and FOLLOW THE TIGERS THROUGH IPTAY."

NATIONAL OLYMPIC DAY

Saturday, October 22, was National Olympic Day, but since Clemson was idle in football, the bulk of Tiger fans were not made aware of this fact. Clemson-Pendleton Junior Chamber of Commerce is therefore taking up contributions today from those fans so inclined to help the United States to another Olympic title — symbolic of athletic supremacy in the world.

The VII Winter Olympic Games will be held in Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy, January 26-February 5, 1956, and the XVI Olympiad will be staged in Melbourne, Australia, November 22-December 8, 1956.

The United States Government does not provide the funds by which the nation's more than 500 top athletes and coaches travel and live during this period. As a result, the Olympic Fund Drive, under the direction of U. S. Olympic Committee Chairman Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Life Magazine and the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, was formed.

It is estimated that $1 million will be needed to field a representative United States Olympic team. To support this team, place your contribution in the barrels located at each exit to Memorial Stadium today. Individual contributions may be made by check or money order payable to Olympic Fund in care of Clemson-Pendleton Jaycees, Clemson, South Carolina.

RESUME OF SEASON

This afternoon's game with the University of Maryland brings Clemson's home season to a close.

The Tigers, now on the verge of their most successful year since 1951, opened their 1955 slate against Presbyterian and outclassed the Blue Hose to the tune of 33 to 0.

Taking to the road, Clemson won their first Atlantic Coast Conference game of the year as they beat Virginia, 21 to 7. The following week the Bengals won their first game from the University of Georgia in 41 years, upending the Bulldogs 26-7 in Memorial Stadium.

Then came the Tigers' lone defeat of the season thus far. In a game played in Houston, Jess Neely's Rice Owls won out over Clemson in a bruising 21-7 encounter.

The Bengals rebounded a week and a half later as they took their first State Fair game from South Carolina since 1948. Clemson led all the way to win 28 to 14.

Then back to Memorial Stadium for a tussle with Wake Forest. The Tigers had to come from behind in the final quarter of play, but they kept their conference record unblemished with a 19-13 win over the Demons Deacons.

Last week, the Bengals continued their winning ways with a second straight come-from-behind victory—this time 21-16 over a scrapping Virginia Tech team.

Following today's game, the Tigers take to the road for their final two encounters. Next week they meet Auburn's Plainsmen in Mobile, Ala., and the following Saturday they journey to Greenville for their annual tussle with the Furman Hurricane.

Maryland enters the game with an outstanding 8-0 record for the year. Included among their victims this season are such teams as Missouri (13-12), UCLA (7-0), Baylor (20-6), Syracuse (34-13), and LSU (13-0). The Terps also hold victories over Atlantic Coast Conference foes North Carolina, Wake Forest, and South Carolina.

BEST BET every time

The 3 T's that never vary

Taste

Carolina's Pride meat products processed in small batches, each batch carefully tasted—tested, insures fine flavor every time.

Tenderness

Only choice, young, grain-fed porkers are selected to insure greater tenderness. Each small batch is rigidly tested before going to market.

Texture

Just as in the cakes you bake, no meat product can be a real treat without fine texture. Each small batch must pass our strict texture tests before it is labeled Carolina's Pride.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK

Each time you buy a Carolina's Pride product, you must be completely satisfied. If and when we fail you, tear the label from the wrapper and mail it to us with a short letter telling us what you paid and why you are not satisfied. We'll send you DOUBLE your purchase price promptly. Carolina's Pride, Greenwood, S.C.

You're sure of satisfaction—every time when your choice of franks is Carolina's Pride

These popular Southern Franks, you see, are not mass-produced for the national market. Carolina's Pride Franks are processed right here in South Carolina—in small batches—which permits rigid control at every step.

What's more, the porkers are not a hodgepodge of all kinds of breeds from all over—each select pig is a special type, grain fed, and graded U.S. No. 1. The result is uniformity—always the same tempting flavor, always the same tender, lean meat.

That's our promise. If and when we fail you, tell us—and get your money back DOUBLE.

Four Times As Much Power

ANDERSON, S. C.

Dear Mr. Businessman:

Of course it's too late to get your sales message on the broadcast of this ball game. But if you could, it would sell a lot of your merchandise, because you can bet your life there are thousands listening in—in the rich WANS area.

But Clemson football is only one of the many interesting and entertaining programs broadcast by WANS. Your message on any one of them will produce results.

Ask our friendly representatives about choice availabilities at the lowest cost per thousand.

Yours very truly,

WANS 1280 kc.

The Chiquola Manufacturing Company was founded in 1902. Through constant adoption of new ideas, new methods and modern machinery it has continued to grow and play an important part in the industrial progress of South Carolina.

During this long period of successful operation under the same management, Chiquola has produced more than ONE BILLION YARDS of cotton fabrics; it has purchased more than FIFTY-SIX MILLION DOLLARS worth of cotton from the farmers of the South; it has paid MILLIONS of dollars in taxes to the City, County, State, and Federal Governments; it has donated thousands of dollars to schools, churches, orphanages, and charitable organizations; and last but not least, it has paid more than THIRTY MILLION dollars in wages to the hundreds of fine people who have been on its payroll over the years.

Former CLEMSON MEN occupy important positions in our management and we are fully cognizant of the important part this outstanding institution is playing in the development of the South through the education of our leaders of tomorrow.

When autumn leaves are falling and the strains of Tiger Rag resound from the hills of the Blue Ridge, we lend our voice to the plaudits of the multitude with that old familiar refrain, "GO - TIGERS - GO."

Clemson's Basketball Hopes Bright

Clemson's 1955-56 varsity basketball players hope to vacate the cellar position their predecessors of the past two years have occupied in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Coach Banks McFadden will again rely on high scoring Bill Yarborough (28.3 points per game) to pace his scorers, but newcomers to the varsity include high-scoring Vinnie Yockel off last winter's strong freshman team, six-six junior college center Gene Seay of North Greenville, six-six forward Ed Brinkley (ineligible last year) and transfer guard Tom Cameron, who scores points about like Yarborough.

Of course, all of last year's varsity players except Barry Ryan are still on hand, including rugged six-four forwards "Rock" Stone and Tommy Smith, guard Bruce Holzschuh and center Billy Riser. They played inspirational ball at times and looked great in the spring intrasquad contest.

Other sophomores who should help the varsity are six-four forward Ed Moncrief, six-five center Billy Williams and fancy dribbling guard Dick Yearly.

Clemson plays its most difficult schedule in history — 26 regular season games, including participation in the Charlotte (N. C.) Tournament opposite Boston University, Colgate, Davidson, Florida State, Mississippi State, Tennessee and Wake Forest; the Gator Bowl Tournament opposite Georgia, LSU and South Carolina; and the Senior Bowl Tournament opposite Miami, Memphis State and Spring Hill.
